

Keynote Speeches

Millie McNabb, B.A., B.Mus., Founder, Christian Values Legacy

"On a Wing and a Prayer"

Prayer is an important part of the Christian's life, and yet prayer time gets squeezed out by other matters. In this keynote speech, Millie invites her alter-ego "Skip" to take the podium for an overview of prayer time in the midst of a busy life.

"I've not laughed so hard in a long time—or been so convicted." – Susan

"Were you at my house? That sounded just like me." -- Annette

"Which Way Did They Go?"

It's scary as a parent to see the number of children who were raised in Christian homes forsaking their Christian values. Millie gives insights into how to keep children from wandering off, and offers strategies for parents who are raising Christian children now.

"So he shepherded them according to the integrity of his heart, and guided them with his skillful hands" (Psalm 78:72.)

"That Must Have Come From Your Side of the Family!"

Have you ever wondered how that cute baby that looks just like you, could have such a mind of its own? Or perhaps you've experienced a couple of angelic children that had you thinking "this parenting is easy," only to be blessed with a wild and crazy child that threw your home into chaos. Millie introduces the temperament spectrum and how to customize your parenting to encompass God's unique design of each family member.

"It's not wrong; it's different." --Robert Rohm
