Millie McNabb, B.A., B.Mus., Founder, Christian Values Legacy

"On a Wing and a Prayer"

Prayer is an important part of the Christian's life, and yet prayer time gets squeezed out by other matters. In this keynote speech, Millie invites her alter-ego "Skip" to take the podium for an overview of prayer time in the midst of a busy life.

"I've not laughed so hard in a long time—or been so convicted." – Susan

"Were you at my house? That sounded just like me." -- Annette

"Which Way Did They Go?"

It's scary as a parent to see the number of children who were raised in Christian homes forsaking their Christian values. Millie gives insights into how to keep children from wandering off, and offers strategies for parents who are raising Christian children now.

"So he shepherded them according to the integrity of his heart, and guided them with his skillful hands" (Psalm 78:72.)

"That Must Have Come From Your Side of the Family!"

Have you ever wondered how that cute baby that looks just like you, could have such a mind of its own? Or perhaps you've experienced a couple of angelic children that had you thinking "this parenting is easy," only to be blessed with a wild and crazy child that threw your home into chaos. Millie introduces the temperament spectrum and how to customize your parenting to encompass God's unique design of each family member.

"It's not wrong; it's different." --Robert Rohm

Seminars/Breakout Sessions

Raising Christian Children Now

This series teaches parents intentional strategies and solutions that will help make the difference for your child becoming a Christian adult. 61% of young adults who were church-ed as teenagers are now spiritually disengaged. Unbelievable! Are you as a Christian parent afraid that your children will become part of that number? Are you concerned that, even though your children accepted Christ and go to Sunday School, Christianity isn't meaningful and relevant to them? Get help Raising Christian Children Now.

"...[God] was seeking Godly offspring" (Malachi 2:15.)

Consistent Parenting

The Consistent Parenting series helps you develop a parenting plan and teaches you how to stick with your plan. "Oh...all right." Don't you hate it when you're tired and distracted, and give in to a whining child? Wouldn't you like to be confident that your children, insofar as it is up to you, are prepared to deal with life? Parenting doesn't need to be a roller coaster of permissiveness and over-reactive discipline.

"Don't grow weary in well-doing" (Galatians 6:9.)

Customized Parenting

Discover the delightful differences and how to confidently prepare your child for life in the way he is strongly inclined. "Where did this child come from?" Did you ever ask yourself that question? Would you like to know what to do when you're a bookworm, and you're wondering if your child escaped from the zoo? Each of us is unique, which can lead to misunderstandings and even discord. A Temperament Profile is required with this seminar.

"...I am fearfully and wonderfully made...." (Psalm 139:14.)

Winsome Woman

Make friends for Jesus by being a gracious, mature, productive Christian Woman. Do you appreciate those older women in the church, who seem to be able to walk above the chaos of life? Do you aspire to become a woman whose beauty of the soul radiates in all you do? Whatever role you have in life--career woman, spouse, parent, superwoman, free spirit--you can become a person who attracts others to Christ. A Temperament Profile is required with this seminar.

"...a woman who fears the Lord is to be praised" (Proverbs 31: 30.)

Eagerly Watch and Pray

Prepare for your parenting day with prayer and eagerly watch to see what God will do. "I'm gonna get that kid, so help me God." "Lord, Give me patience--NOW!" Is this the stuff of your prayer life? No matter how Godly the goals, and how dedicated the parents, the end result is up to God. One of the keys to success in life is deepening your relationship with God through prayer, and teaching your children to pray.

"...I will order my prayer to Thee and eagerly watch" (Psalm 5:3.)

Testimonials

“Your evaluation forms were excellent! The participants...stated that there was so much learned from your seminar that would benefit them in not only their professional environment, but also in their personal lives. We hope you enjoyed the seminar as much as we delighted in your presentation. Again, thank you for sharing your knowledge with us.”

--American Business Women's Association, Pocatello, Idaho

“When we were growing up there were certain TV shows my friends watched, that we weren't allowed to watch. When I asked my mom “Why?” she said it was because the families were disrespectful to each other and that's not how a family should behave or act. That lesson has stuck with me throughout the years, and has given me a different filter for deciding whether to watch the new shows they have out today.

“I was taught the basics of Christianity: Jesus died for me and if I accepted Him into my heart, I would go to heaven when I died. I was also taught lessons for living. I was taught the Biblical law and that to break those laws is sin. I was taught that the Bible wasn't a bunch of dos and don'ts, but a book of caring: the same way parents warn their children not to touch fire is the same idea as God's laws.

--Margaret Schnitzler (Gerald and Millie's third daughter)

“What joy you brought to my soul! The fasting document is perfect! This very day I covenanted to fast.... We are also initiating a...prayer ministry....

--Rev. Daniel Gates, CE Pastor, First Baptist Church, Richmond, CA

“I want you to know how appreciative I am of your leadership of Grow By Caring, ...planning for the Visioning Retreat, the Pathway to Freedom Seminar and...Discovering Your Gifts. You gave a sense of direction and fulfillment to many of us.

--Bernard R. Greenwalt, Pastor, First Baptist Church, Bremerton

Founder, Christian Values Legacy

Millie McNabb founded Christian Values Legacy in order to help parents intentionally raise their children to become Christian adults. There was not a single event, but rather an accumulation of learning, changing, and teaching through which God showed her the need to equip parents. Millie shares valuable lessons and family stories with her audiences.

Millie grew up on a family farm and received the benefits of working together. She and her husband made life choices to raise their girls close to grandparents. Grandma kept a family garden and a few animals, so there was always work to be done. Grandma maintained that if you want children to learn, you need to work with them. Millie challenges her listeners to parent with integrity.

There were seemingly small incidents that proved to be pivotal. When Millie's oldest daughter was in the second grade, she asked her mother, "What is the most important thing in life?" Millie answered, "To give glory to God." Her daughter replied, "Well, if it's so important, why don't they ever say anything about it at school?" That was the first impact on her thinking that eventually led her to homeschool all four of their daughters. Millie wasn't prepared to homeschool, but she became prepared, and successfully homeschooled. Millie helps other parents be prepared.

There were life-wrenching events that motivated Millie to help other parents pass on their Christian values. Millie's brother-in-law died from AIDS. Millie's brother committed suicide. One of Millie's daughters made some unwise choices and now deals with life as a single mother. Millie and her husband were both raised in Christian homes. They drew on Biblical truths to work through those situations. Millie shares lessons based in Biblical truths.

A 2006 Barna Research study of twenty-somethings reported that 61% of today's young adults had been churched at one point during their teen years, but they are now spiritually disengaged (i.e., not actively attending church, reading the Bible, or praying). This surprised Millie and she asked the question, "Lord, how do can I use these life lessons You've taught me to help others?" Her query led to the founding of Christian Values Legacy.

Millie recognized that Christian parenting cannot be casual. It takes a commitment beyond a child praying to accept Christ and being a member of the church youth group. It takes a commitment to personal integrity of heart; it takes a commitment to prayer; it takes a commitment to skillfully lead your children—in thought, word and deed. Christian Values Legacy helps you develop an intentional plan for raising your children to become Christian adults.

God has given each of us freewill: our children will choose whether or not to live by Christian standards as they enter adulthood. It is Millie's hope that your experience with Christian Values Legacy, will help you raise the children God has entrusted to you, so that at the end of your parenting season, your children will have accepted Christian values as their own, and go on to become Christian adults.
