

Customized Parenting

Discover the delightful differences of your family members and learn how to confidently prepare your child for life in the way he is strongly inclined.

“Where did this child come from?” Have you ever asked yourself that question? God has a sense of humor in bringing wild and crazy kids into prim and proper homes. Or maybe you’re the zany performing family, and God gave you a bookworm. Does this sound familiar?

Customized Parenting helps you identify how God designed each of your children, and teaches you how you can best interact with them. Millie provides worksheets to customize a parenting plan for each child.

“Train up a child in the way he should go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it,” (Proverbs 22:6) is often mistakenly clung to as a promise. While it is not a promise, it is a parenting principle. One of the secrets of correctly applying this principle, however, is in the interpretation. “The way he should go” could more accurately be translated, “the way he is strongly inclined.” This seminar focuses on the way you and your child are “strongly inclined” and how to make the most of your unique design, while encouraging your child to develop his character, according to the way he is designed.

One way of learning about this uniqueness is The Temperament Profile. The Profile identifies your God-given design in three areas: 1) Surface relationships and intellect, 2) Intimate relationships and emotions, and 3) Control and decision-making. Millie interprets your profile to show you your natural parenting strengths.

Prior to the workshop, every person needs to have purchased and completed the Temperament Profile. The Temperament Profile is available at www.christianvalueslegacy.com/temperament/. There is also an option there for participants to have an individual telephone session with Millie to review the results of their Temperament Profile.

The Customized Parenting Seminar Series is available as a weekend seminar, teleseminars, or separate 90-minute breakout sessions:

- It’s Not Wrong, It’s Different: You will be relieved to understand how others misunderstand you.
- Decidedly Different: You can confidently lead your children in the decision-making process.
- Feeling Different: You can keep your cool while teaching your children to deal with anger
- My Thoughts Are Not Your Thoughts: You can have assurance as you train your children to think for themselves.

Christian Values Legacy

Visit www.christianvalueslegacy.com or call 208.237.3656 for details.

...intentionally raising children to become Christian adults